

4-H WILDLIFE CONSERVATION CONFERENCE

The annual 4-H Wildlife Conservation Conference was held at Millstone 4-H Camp, August 8-13, 1966. The purpose of this conference is to encourage wise use of our natural resources. Seventy-two boys and girls attended this year's conference. Delegates to this conference are selected on the basis of their accomplishments in the 4-H Wildlife Project. Federal Cartridge Corporation of Minneapolis is the sponsor of this conference.

The 4-H Staff and the Extension Wildlife Specialist jointly plan and direct these conferences. Instructions are provided by Extension Service Specialist, representatives of the North Carolina Wildlife Resource Commission, and the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development. Instructions in soil and water conservation, forestry and wildlife conservation, boating, water safety, and hunter safety are provided.

In addition to the conference for the 4-H members, this year 4-H Wildlife Project Leaders were invited to attend. Specific instructions to supplement the regular conference program were provided the 4-H Project Leaders. The leaders selected to attend the conference were provided a scholarship by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.
